Local Food Producer of the Month

Every month in this newsletter, IFM will feature a different local food producer. We feel it's important to support our local farmers and food producers as much as possible. This month we feature Riverhill Farm. Riverhill Farm is a local farm in Nevada City, CA, currently farming on 10 acres, and providing much of it's produce to our local region.

If you notice the beautiful tomatoes and lettuce you get at IFM during summer and fall months, those are mostly from Riverhill Farm. In addition, Riverhill Farm provides delicious cabbage, kale, sweet peppers, cauliflower and squash! They donate a large portion of these veggies as well as give us a really great deal on most of it through their Good Food for All program which allows IFM to purchase at a lower cost with the help of donations. Find out more about them at riverhillfarm.com.

Foods to Look Forward To

Spinach
Kale
Mandarins
Spaghetti squash
Butternut squash
Staples bags at every visit

Birthday Bags and Art Bags Now Available for Clients with Kids!

Some of you may not know it, but IFM has birthday bags supplied with everything you need to make your child's birthday special. Request one for a boy or girl twelve and under. We also have birthday cakes if needed. Mention it at the check in to get your request met.

Just in - Art bags! We recently received a generous donation of arts supplies from the Art Club at Lake Wildwood. Request an art bag for the kids next time you're in. Great for home schooled kids of any age, while supplies last.
